

September 2018

We are glad to announce that two new Jean Monnet courses, co-funded by European Commission Erasmus + Programme, will be held at the Department of Economics and Management.

"European Indicators of poverty and vulnerabilities for Sustainable Development Goal and Seminars" (9 ECTS - I Semester - starting on September 24th, 2018). On this course has been borrowed the course:

- "European Statistical System and Data Production Model" (6 ECTS - I Semester starting on September 24th, 2018) which is part of the "OS" curriculum of the Master of Science in Economics and it has been awarded by the European Commission with the label 'European Master in Official Statistics' (EMOS).

"Small Area Methods for the analysis of multidimensional poverty data and Seminars" (9 ECTS - II Semester). On this course has been borrowed: the course:

- "Analysis of Survey Data and Small Area Estimation" (6 ECTS - II Semester) which is part of the curriculum "OS" of the Masters of Science in Economics which has been labelled with the 'Certificate European Master in Official Statistics' by the European Statistical System Committee

These course are part of Jean Monnet Chair "Small Area methods for Multidimensional Poverty and living conditions Indicators in EU – SAMPIEU", of which the chair holder is Monica Pratesi, full Professor in Statistics.

Seminars will be held by Dott. Vincenzo Mauro (Department of Economics and Management, University of Pisa), Maria Pia Sorvillo and Marina Gandolfo (ISTAT), Jan van den Brakel (Maastricht University School of Business) Nina Drejerska and Mariola Chrzanowska (Warsaw University of Life Sciences), Mario Biggeri (University of Florence), Nikos Tzavidis (University of Southampton).

We remember you that other two Jean Monnet courses are available at the Department: "The Economics of European Regions: Theory, Empirics and Policy – EERTEP" (chair holder Davide Fiaschi, full professor in Economics) and "Labour Economics in an European Perspective – LEEP", (chair holder Lorenzo Corsini, associate professor in Economics).